Some cities are marked with small white dots, while others are marked with small white circles. The map also shows the state's coastline and major water bodies.

Improving the health and well-being of the uninsured and the underinsured in North Carolina.

OUR MISSION

Support and advocate for our member organizations to provide healthcare for the uninsured and underserved of North Carolina.

OUR VISION

All people will have equitable access to quality health care, regardless of ability to pay.

THE NORTH CAROLINA ASSOCIATION OF FREE & CHARITABLE CLINICS

The North Carolina Association of Free and Charitable Clinics (NCAFCC) Annual Survey allows our member organizations the opportunity to enhance their quality of care, strengthen their positions as health care safety-net providers and demonstrate to the philanthropic community that their investments “make a difference.”

NCAFCC was the first in the national free and charitable clinic sector to implement a measurable health outcomes program that underscores our commitment to provide quality care to our patients on par with the care insured individuals receive from private providers. We’ve come a long way since first implementing the NCAFCC Annual Survey and we’ve witnessed some remarkable achievements by our member organizations.

The NCAFCC Annual Survey process reflects our dedication to helping and improving the health of the medically underserved in North Carolina. It is our hope to build upon earlier achievements while expanding our vision to create new ones. It is our belief that the free and charitable clinics in North Carolina have a compelling story to tell and the NCAFCC Annual Survey continues to serve as a vital tool for telling that story.

LETTER FROM OUR CEO

As we reflect on 2025, I am reminded that healthcare is constantly evolving, and our network of North Carolina's free and charitable clinics continues to evolve with it. Two years ago marked a historic milestone as Medicaid Expansion took full effect across North Carolina. More than 700,000 adults gained access to healthcare coverage through Medicaid, representing one of the most significant changes to our state's healthcare landscape in decades.

As expected, our member clinics experienced an initial decline in patient volume as many uninsured individuals transitioned into Medicaid coverage. However, by the end of 2025, the story had changed. The ongoing need for compassionate, accessible care remained strong, and our clinics once again demonstrated why they are an indispensable part of North Carolina's healthcare safety net.

In 2025, our member clinics provided 149,843 medical, dental, and behavioral health visits to 64,425 unduplicated patients. While we experienced a temporary decrease in patients immediately following Medicaid Expansion, by year's end our clinics had served 3.99% more unduplicated patients than in 2024. These numbers reinforce an important reality: even with expanded insurance coverage, thousands of North Carolinians continue to face barriers to accessing affordable healthcare.

The impact our members make with limited resources continues to inspire me. Collectively, North Carolina's free and charitable clinics delivered $351,845,639 in healthcare services while operating on a combined budget of just $46,789,121. Few sectors can demonstrate this level of return on investment. Every donated dollar, volunteer hour, and community partnership is multiplied many times over into life-changing healthcare for individuals and families who would otherwise go without care. I continue to be amazed by the efficiency, innovation, and unwavering commitment of our member clinics.

NCAFCC, CEO

LETTER FROM OUR CEO

As we look ahead, 2026 presents significant challenges. Federal policy changes under H.R. 1, combined with changes enacted by the North Carolina General Assembly, will create new hurdles for healthcare providers across our state. At the same time, the expiration of enhanced Affordable Care Act premium subsidies and changes to Medicaid eligibility and enrollment policies are expected to increase the number of uninsured North Carolinians. Many individuals who lose coverage will once again turn to free and charitable clinics for care. These policy changes come at a particularly difficult time for nonprofit organizations. Increased demand for services will coincide with greater competition for charitable funding as nonprofits across multiple sectors face similar financial pressures. The need for strong, sustainable safety-net providers has never been greater.

Throughout 2025, the North Carolina Association of Free and Charitable Clinics remained committed to strengthening our members and advocating on their behalf. We hosted three statewide leadership workshops, provided a strong voice for our members through legislative advocacy in Raleigh, and facilitated regular regional meetings that fostered collaboration, innovation, and peer learning across our network. Looking ahead to 2026, we are excited to bring our members together once again at our Annual Member Conference in Chapel Hill, where we will continue building the partnerships, knowledge, and leadership necessary to meet the challenges ahead.

None of this work would be possible without the dedication of our clinic leaders, staff, volunteers, board members, healthcare professionals, community partners, donors, funders and policymakers who believe that access to healthcare should not depend on a person's ability to pay. Together, we are strengthening North Carolina's healthcare safety net and improving the health of our communities.

Thank you for your continued commitment to this mission. While the challenges before us are significant, I remain confident that together we will continue to ensure that every North Carolinian has access to compassionate, high-quality healthcare when they need it most.
